The David C. Driskell Center for the Study of the African Diaspora was founded upon Driskell's retirement in 1998 from the University of Maryland, College Park, MD. The Driskell Center will explore and celebrate the rich influences and traditions of African and African American society and culture as part of a university known for its strong commitment to multiculturalism and diversity. The Driskell Center will be a preeminent venue for African Diasporic Studies and a nexus of study for the College of Arts and Humanities, the university, the region and the nation.
